FINISHES

To ensure a high quality benchtop and to protect the wood, OSMO PolyX is used on all timber products. This high quality finish penetrates deep into the wood, forming a low-maintenance, protective barrier.

OSMO PolyX is a natural oil and wax finish and is available in a natural or semi matt finish. Developed from natural oils and waxes used in the industry for over a century, it penetrates deep into the wood and creates a protective barrier against moisture, abrasions, and scratches.

With this oil, all RAW furniture and benchtops become highly resistant to spills, dirt, dust, and minor damage, as well as liquids such as coffee and wine. However, it is recommended that spills be cleaned immediately with a damp cloth.

We also offer 2 PAC non-grain filled and grain filled options. Speak to our friendly staff about pricing.

WARRANTY

At RAW Sunshine Coast, all products are made of the highest quality timbers and materials and are covered by a two-year manufacturers warranty. To ensure the longevity of all benchtops, proper handling and maintenance is essential.

Furniture and benchtops should not be subjected to undue stress and only used for their intended purpose.

Unfortunately, the effects of the environment and any natural degradation that may occur are not covered by the warranty. Natural factors may lead to deterioration of the timber such as expansion, shrinking, or discolouration. Small splits and cracks may develop over time. These are a natural phenomenon of timber, not a fault, and add character to the pieces.

Damage to the surface of any product through misuse, the use of chemicals or abrasive products are not covered.

Any flaws in the product, as well as any issues with the finished design, must be registered within 24 hours of the product being received.

Please refer to our website for our full warranty and care guide.
PRODUCT CARE

Every piece at RAW Sunshine Coast is handmade and unique. Constructed from sustainably sourced materials, each piece is made to last. With care, solid timber benchtops should remain in excellent condition for a long time. The timber utilised for the piece has potentially had 100 years to acclimatise to its surroundings, but in a home, it must be looked after.

No chemicals should be used on the finished timber, nor should any abrasive products or cloths. Clean with a lightly sprayed water-based cleaning product. It is recommended that an OSMO maintenance kit be used to prevent deterioration.

If necessary, the wood can be refinished with OSMO. If you wish for the finish to be redone, or for any stains, scratches, chips, or other damage to the repaired, contact RAW Sunshine Coast.

There exist natural variations in wood, including knots, cracks, colour, and grain. These are unique to every tree and piece of timber, and therefore benchtops. These should not be considered faults but serve to make each and every piece individual.

Furniture and benchtops should be dusted regularly with a clean, cotton cloth. Coasters and placemats should always be used under plates, cups, utensils, and glasses, regardless of whether they are hot or cold. When writing, it is best to use a mat to prevent dents.

Any spills should be wiped up immediately so as not to cause the finish to break down. Prolonged exposure to direct sunlight, heating/cooling vents, or fireplaces should also be avoided. These may damage or discolour the wood/finish.
